

President of United Brotherhood of Churchmen Turns Down Bryan and Endorses Neville.

Stromberg, Neb., March 28.—To the Editor of the World-Herald: Keith Neville is the logical candidate on the democratic ticket for governor.

Who said so?
Quite a number of Polk county people whom I have talked to, openly and quietly.

I am for the amendment, but shall cast my vote for Keith Neville for governor, because I know he will treat us fair in any eventuality.

Personally I abhor tieups with rotten or inefficient candidate merely for expediency. We must put principle above present delight and vote for the man who is on the square.

I am on the executive committee of the local dry federation, and know that it is more consistent for me to vote for Neville than for Bryan, because of the apparent tieup by Bryan with a notorious bunch of brewery backers, merely for vote plunder.

Honesty and efficiency should be the first demand of Nebraska voters in the selection of public officials. Rarely do we find an immoral man who is honest, but on the other hand some of our cleanest men morally are so crooked they can't sit straight in church. I have come in contact with so-called moral men, in and out of church, and I know what I am talking about. I have been moderator, or in other words, chief executive, of the Eden Baptist church since January 1, 1916; superintendent of its Sunday school for nearly two years. Moderator of the Baptist Young People's union and Sunday school of the York association of Baptist churches, besides president for two terms of the United Brotherhood of Stromberg, the largest organization of Christian men in this part of the state. Speaking plainly, the only test I rely upon, is, can those with whom I work be depended upon, or will they double-cross me and play traitor to the cause which they promised God and man to be true to when they entered into our fellowship? It is not a question of being prayerful, or pious as a long-haired Quaker, but a question of applying Christian principles in word and action, being on the square, dependable and honest.

Charles W. Bryan was my candidate until I detected what appeared to be a cunning but pernicious gentlemen's agreement between him and the vilest foes of the dry amendment. Personally, I do not dare to stand silently by and see our old political magnates sell us out for a mess of pottage—votes.

My advice to every Nebraska Christian is to vote for Keith Neville in the primary, April 18.

Do it because he is on the square. Do it because he does not need to make any explanation about a tieup for vote getting.

Do it because he is for Woodrow Wilson without any apologies.

Do it because, like Governor Morehead, he promises to give us another business administration.

Do it because he is for the re-election of Senator Hitchcock for United States senator, instead of the candidate endorsed by Bryan, who is openly and maliciously opposing the president's national security plans, and has been for years an attorney for the brewery interests.

Do it because he is young, progressive, clean, safe and efficient.

Do it because he represents that great territory—western Nebraska. A more deserving and representative class of people cannot be found anywhere. I know for I have lived among them.

Do it because Christian people, business people, republicans and democrats rich or poor alike, living in North Platte or community, say he is just the man for the place.

Do it because the boys like him. High school boys, Sunday school boys and boys and young men about town are his friends, because he has always been their friend. I know what it means to be a friend of the boys. I have been a teacher and leader among boys for three years and know what am talking about when I say no one can retain the friendship of boys unless he treats them on the square. Keith Neville is the friend of the clean, manly Christian boy and young man of high school age.

A crooked log may possibly make a straight fire, but an undependable candidate will never make a dependable official. Keith Neville is honest, and fairly seeking the democratic nomination for governor, and will therefore honestly and fairly serve the good people of this great state, should he be called to serve the great commonwealth of Nebraska.

HERSHEY TIMES ITEMS

The date of the instituting of Hershey lodge No. 383, I. O. O. F. has been postponed one week and will take place Monday, April 10th. At least twenty-five new members will be taken in that night.

H. B. Hungerford has purchased W. H. Wilkerson's horses and farm machinery, has leased his farm and moved onto it. We have not been informed just what Mr. Wilkerson intends to do.

Chas. Bockrocker has purchased the Central meat market at Osceola, Neb., and will take possession the 15th of April. Mr. Bockrocker is an Al butcher and without doubt will give the patrons of his new location an up-to-date shop.

S. J. Koch purchased at a thoroughbred stock sale at South Omaha last week three head of Whiteface cattle, two bulls and a three year old heifer, to place with his stock. He paid for the trio a little better than a thousand dollars. The general trend of the stock raisers in this valley is towards bettering their herds, and Mr. Koch is generally one of the first to get in line.

Mrs. C. J. Holderness was in Gethenburgh last week making arrangements to move their household goods to this city.

Thackeray's Satire.

Thackeray created quite erroneous impressions of himself by often indulging in irony in the presence of people who were incapable of understanding it. One curious instance which he gave was this: Thackeray had been dining at the Garlick and was talking in the smoking room after dinner with various club acquaintances. One of them happening to have left his cigar case at home, Thackeray, though disliking the man, who was a notorious tuft hunter, good naturedly offered him one of his cigars. The man accepted the cigar, but not finding it to his liking, had the bad taste to say to Thackeray, "I say, Thackeray, you won't mind my saying I don't think much of this cigar?" Thackeray, no doubt irritated at the man's ungraciousness and bearing in mind his tuft hunting predilections, quietly responded, "You ought to, my good fellow, for it was given me by a lord." Instead, however, of detecting the irony, the dolt immediately attributed the remark to snobbishness on Thackeray's part and to the end of his days went about declaring that Thackeray had boasted that he had been given a cigar by a lord.

Show Your Gratitude.

Gratitude is one of the prettiest posies in the bouquet of human virtues. Cultivate it and it will bloom always. Gratitude costs nothing, but repays much, and yet it is a gem of character that is rare indeed.

Never forget the friend who threw you the life line. To do that is treason of the rankiest kind. Keep green in your heart the memory of every obligation and lose no opportunity to repay it. Show your gratitude for a kind act done you by doing a kind act for some one else.

A grateful "Thank you!" for a seat in a street car reimburses the man who hangs to a strap. Silently accept the seat as a matter of course and you have started that man on the slide to selfishness.

Kick out of your selfish shell and express your gratitude on the least provocation. If you never give gratitude never expect it. In proportion to your gratitude so will you be graded by your fellow men.—Boston Post.

Uniting the Family.

How many households have a family hour—a definite time in the week when all the members of the family gather in perfect serenity for an interval of genuine communion? Although civilization brings many advantages in its train, it has the great fault of tending to disrupt family intercourse. Each member has too many individual activities. Fathers have their business; sons, their business or education; mothers, their domestic duties or social occupations; daughters, their business, their education or their social life.

All these things are right and worthy in themselves, but they do not tend to weld the family. If members of a family will make it a rule to devote themselves for one hour in the week wholly to one another the spirit of family life will be quickened and strengthened. Often the members of a family pursue parallel courses that do not intersect. It is mere platitudes to point out that great events—travel, marriage, death and the like—must inevitably cause disintegration. But so long as the family is together under one roof the spirit of union and common interests should be fostered.—Youth's Companion.

A Rise.

"The automatic force of inanimate objects is sometimes a wonderful thing," said the professor.

"Yes," agreed the impecunious man; "even the humble cake of yeast can always raise the dough."—New York Mail.

His Wisdom.

Judge—How long have you owned a car? Motorist (charged with speeding)—One week, your honor. Judge—Um; then you can still afford to pay a fine. Twenty dollars!—Puck.

Not What He Meant.

Diner (in swell cafe)—I suppose people who dine here carry off quite a lot of silver. Waiter—Yes, sir; we can't get all their loose change.—Boston Transcript.
